food & drink federation passionate about food & drink
Scotland

Cross Party Group on Food

Members and your data

The Cross Party Group on Food benefits from a very broad and diverse membership. Any organisation or individual may apply to become a member of the Group.

When you apply to become a member we will collect the following from you:

Your name and e-mail address
Your organisation and job title where applicable.

You may also tell us if you have any areas of specific interest to the Group.

We will use that information to tell you about forthcoming Cross Party Group meetings and, for security purposes, to share your names with Parliamentary staff who are given a list of attendees for those meetings.

We will also use it to communicate with you about any other activities carried out by the Group.

Names of members are listed on the Scottish Parliament's website. Names of attendees of the meetings are listed in the minutes that are also made publicly available on the Scottish Parliament's website.

Details of members and meetings for this session can be found on the Scottish Parliament's website.

We also include the names of members in the Group's Annual Return which is published on the Scottish Parliament's website.

You can tell us at any time if you no longer wish to be a member and we will then delete your information.

Any questions regarding the Group should be referred to Mary Lawton.

For more general information about how FDF protects and stores data and your rights as browsers of our website please refer to the FDF privacy policy that can be found [here].